Sustainability Durability

By shaping and finishing the world's most beautiful and exotic hardwoods, Flux Studios has created Fortis Arbor Wood Mosaics. Made strictly from sustainable lumber so our grandchildren can enjoy our forests as well as our tiles, Fortis Arbor Mosaics are both beautiful and functional with the enduring warmth and luxury that only wood can bring: a new idea in a classic tradition.

Our wood tiles are handcrafted from solid bamboo, teak and rosewood. These three woods were chosen not only for their pleasing color range, but because of their strength and durability. By partnering with a small furniture company we are able to reclaim our wood from sustainably harvested and plantation grown lumber too small to be used in fine furniture making. All our tiles have a living finish that is easily maintained and enhances the wood's natural beauty. Each tile is cut and finished by hand, so every installation is unique.

Fortis Arbor Mosaics can be used in virtually any interior application with limited water exposure: on walls, back splashes, countertops, fireplace surrounds and kitchen, bathroom and high traffic floors. Whether our tiles are used in a contemporary or traditional setting, Fortis Arbor Mosaics bring a depth and aesthetic harmony to the environment that is unrivaled by other materials.

Wood Expands and Contracts So Does Our Grout

Fortis Arbor Grout - patent pending - was developed specifically to move with the natural expansion and contraction of Fortis Arbor wood tiles to allow beautiful concepts in flooring, walls, countertops, back splashes, fireplace surrounds, kitchens and bathrooms.

We are the pioneers of wood tile mosaics and only our grout allows for maximum performance and easy installation.
